A. YATES MEDALLIST IN PINEHURST GOLF QUALIFYING ROUND

LEADS BY A STROKE

Finishes With Card of 74-76-150 in North and South Championship.

E. L. SCOFIELD IS SECOND

Winner Smashes Three Put ters and Is Ready to Stop When Luck Turns.

pecial Dispatch to THE NEW YORK HERALD. PINEHURST, N. C., April 4.—Arthur Yates of Rochester will soon have a ckiace of gold medals, for he was the medalist for the third consecutive tournament in Pinehurst when he led the field in the thirty-six hole qualifying round of the North and South amateur gold championship to-day with two rounds of 74, 76—150 This placed him just one shot ahead of E. L. Scoffeld of Pinehurst, who was 74, 77-151.

Yates was running around the clubhouse at noon complaining because his two favorite clubs, a putter and mashie niblick, were missing from his ag when he went to his locker a few minutes before he was scheduled te start. The clubs could not be found and Yates made some hurried purchases in a shop. He carried along five putters and smashed three of these on the first few holes. Some said he bit them. At the fifth hole, after starting with three fives, a four to quit, and was going to pick up his ball, but P. S. MacLaughlin of New York, his partner, quieted Yates's nerves with some sound advice and they continued.

By holding a long putt on the ninth, Yates got out in 41, but he swung over the homeward bound circuit in 35 strokes, and his total of 150 added the big gold qualifying medal to his tro-

What might be termed "The class" came through the qualifying round as expected, although the going was hard to-day and scores were not nearly as low as yesterday. The players were forced to contend with a strong wind and the greens were dry and fast. Donald Herring, former Princeton half back, reported taking 24 puts on the first nine holes, missing five on one hole. Others took nearly as many.

W. C. Fownes, Jr., Oakmont, former national amateur champion; A. L. Walker, Jr., Richmond County; Mike Thomas, Nashville, one of the nation's foremost left handed players; Donald Parson, the Tin Whistle champion, and F. C. Newton, former captain of the Massachusetts Lesley cup team, all qualified, as did Eddie Lowery, who caddled for Francis Ouimet at Brook-line in 1913, when Ouimet won the open championship from Vardon and Ray.

H. Kasawaki, the amateur champion of Japan, after taking 90 yesterday, falled to return a card to-day.

Henry Topping of Greenwich, and A. L. Walker, Jr., Richmond County, were the only two players from the metropolitan district to make the championship flight. Yates and F. K. Robeson of Rochester, were others from New York State to get in. Hamilton Kerr of Garden City, tied with Francis T. Keating of Pinehurst for the last place in the first 16, at 164 strokes, but he lost on the first hole of the playoff.

The draw for the first round of match play resulted as follows:

S. M. Newton and Weber, Fownes and Gammons, Robeson and Lowery, Darson and Walker, Thomas and F. G. Newton, Keating and Yates, Topping and Roberts, Scoffeld and Wells.

DEMPSEY.

The men who hope that Beckett may Indulge with Jack in strife Are not the ones who'd have to pay Insurance on his life.

The need of reserve strength is shown, as usual, this season by injuries at the training camps and in exhibition games. Take the Giants, for instance. Frisch has had an injured foot and Groh a split finger. McGraw has been forced to play an outfielder in the infield. And there have been many other cases.

There is where luck plays its part in a league race. A manager who can keep an average team together is better off than a rival with a big hospital list of injured stars. Good utility men are valuable assets. We can remember a season when Otey Crandall played every position on the New York team, except that of catcher.

If Willie Hoppe really has decided to retire from competition it will be a big loss to the billiard game. For fifteen years he was so far ahead of all rivals that it destroyed interest in competition. Now young Jake Schaefer has come along, and there is always a chance for a real battle again. These two could play championship matches in every big city in the country and be assured of satisfactory returns from the gate receipts

Your Uncle Wilbert Robinson will, as usual, have a good pitching staff in Brooklyn. Robby is one of the best developers and handlers of pitchers who ever played the game.

ROUND THE CORNER.

You were so intent on something You'd no time to talk with me, And you hurried 'round the corner, Just as busy as could be. I don't know what you were playing, Or what caused your sudden flight; But I do know it was lonely When you vanished from my sight.

Still, I felt you'd be returning If I waited there for you. Little comrade, here's a secret What makes life worth fighting through As the battle waxes hotter. Where Fate's standard is unfurled, Is the hope I'll meet you coming 'Round some corner of the world.

Writers on college papers have less time now to develop the theme of what is the matter with football. You see, they have to get out and watch the spring practice.

Eddie Roush is still yelling for that $18,000 salary, but, somehow of other, it seems as if his voice was getting fainter. In the noise of opening day we doubt whether he can make himself heard at all.

If Cincinnati was a team apt to win the pennant Eddie might get that pay check he is after, but with a club that will have to fight hard to finish as high as fifth it doesn't make so much difference whether Roush spends the summer on the farm or in the outfield.

Charlie Smith's favorite fighter, Jimmy Kelley, the Bronx welterweight, beat Phil Bloom the other evening, and Charlie thinks a little more of him again. He was a little off him after his disastrous encounter with Mike Cohn's favorite, Moe Herscovitch, but Kelley has promised to avenge that massacre at the first favorable opportunity.

Well, the season opens just a week from to-day.

Hoppe's Manager's Terms Developed Into Boomerangs

Dictated Conditions of Which He Complains.

CHICAGO, April 4. — The conditions which prevent Willie Hoppe from trying to regain the world's 13:2 balkline billiard championship for two years and which were given by Hoppe's manager. R. B. Benjamin, as the reasons for the former title holder's retirement from the game, were made by Benjamin himself, according to a statement to the Associated Press to-day by B. E. Bensinger, president of the Brunswick-Balke-Collender Company.

president of the Brunswick-Balke-Collender Company.

Mr. Bensinger explained that Hoppe's manager refused to let the then champion enter the tournament held here last November unless all the players agreed to his stipulation concerning future matches. The agreement then reached set conditions under which, as things have developed, Hoppe has not the right to challenge the present title holder until after mid-March, 1923.

"Benjamin told us that unless the players agreed to this arrangement he would take Hoppe to Europe and not play here," said Mr. Bensinger. "So they agreed to them, and now Benjamin's own terms make it impossible for Hoppe to try for the title again for two years.

"The Brunswick-Balk-Collender Company had absolutely nothing to do with making this arrangement."

a year.

The Argentina giant is not ready for a title fight at the present time, but he showed qualities in his contest with McCann that presage a championship batter in the not distant future. The man who beat McCann to a condition of helplessness in five rounds is not only a powerful hitter, but he showed ability to take solid thumps to the jaw and return to the fray with undiminished vitality and courage.

the fray with undiminished vitality and courage.

He showed aggressiveness of the first rank, and while his ring tactics can be improved, he plainly showed the good effects of three weeks of tuition by Jimmy Deforest, the man who trained Dempsey for the fight with Willard.

Firpo is a pugilistic diamond in the rough, and when he has been smoothed and polished in ring procedure he is apt to develop into as formidable a fighter as the present champion.

Accann, who is a six footer and scales igo pounds.

Firpo, swarthy of skin, with chick, black curly hair on a well shaped head, and well cut features expressive of determination, caused a gasp of astonishment from the onlookers when he removed his bath robe and prepared for action. McCann is by no means a pigmy and he packs a heavy punch with his right, but as he stood facing the South American the Jerseyman seemed like a dwarf alongside a giant.

McCann made a gallant effort in the first round and landed with joiling effect on the big chap's faw. Firpo never lost the serious look he wore when he first climbed into the ring, and he goon launched a whirling attack on his opponent that swept McCann off his feet and compelled him to clinch to save himself and the fifth round was McCann's jaw and the latter held till the bell.

McCann was helpless as he arose and reached his corner, and the referee, under instructions of Boxing Commissioner Lyons, declared hostilities at an end. Firpo walked over to the helpless McCann in the latter's corner and shook him by the hand, adding a pat on the shoulder as encouragement.

Firpo then shot a heavy right to the head and McCann danced away out of the danger zone. Firpo pressed forward and missed with a hard right. Before the big fellow recovered his equilibrium McCann sent a right to the face that drove the Argentinian back on his heels and there was great cheering by the admirers of the Jerseyman.

Firpo shot a havy left to the face just before the gong and the round ended with hors even. Both started roughing it at the beginning of the second round. McCann clinched and Firpo gave him a series of rabbit killer punches. Thomas R. Coward of the Yale Club McCann put a left to the body and Firpo responded with a staggering right to the jaw. This was the hardest blow McCann had yet received and he rushed to close quarters and traded punches with the giant. Firpo had the better of the exchanges and carned the hynors of the round.

Firpo's Knees Sag.

Firpo opened the third round with a solid left to the face, and quick as a flash McCann crossed him with a snapey right. For a few seconds the bull fighter wavered, as his knees sagged and he touched the floor. Scorning a count he was up in a hurry and rushed furiously at McCann. Firpo now was angry and he unhooked a volley of rights and lefts that drove McCann all about the rins. D.
